Dancing at Lughnasa* returns tonight!

Greetings!

We've had so much fun exploring Irish culture through the run of Dancing at Lughnasa. Enjoy this video of members of Ceili of the Valley Society, the cast of Dancing at Lughnasa, and patrons celebrating Irish dance in the lobby prior to the Jan. 27 performance.

Dancing at Lughnasa's final four performances start tomorrow! In honor of the Irish roots of this show, we're serving Guinness Stout, Harp Lager and Smithwick's Red Ale at our concessions area.

More about Dancing at Lughnasa -- Brian Friel's powerful memory play:

Set in Ireland in 1936, it's a summer of changes for the five Mundy sisters as they gather together. Uncle Jack returns from a long mission in Abyssinia, their first radio brings music into their ancestral home, and a young man with a lust for adventure returns for a visit.

We also have a slew of great discounts and special activities for Dancing at Lughnasa. Read more.

Open auditions for Cabaret

Berlin, New Year's Eve, 1929: A strange and garish master of ceremonies welcomes the audience to the Kit Kat Club — a seedy Berlin nightspot where “Life is beautiful” — and assures them they will forget all their troubles at the Cabaret.

When : 1 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 17.

Where: Pentacle Theatre, 324 52nd Ave. NW, off Highway 22 about 6 miles west of downtown Salem.

Casting: Eight men; eight women able to play a variety of roles, genders and ages. All actors must be age 18 or older.

Pentacle Theatre encourages actors of all abilities, genders and ethnic backgrounds to audition for its productions.

Cherry Blossom Theatre Festival set for March 9-11

3 days. 5 workshops. 6 venues. 15 performances. All in Salem!

The Salem Theatre Network will hold its second annual Cherry Blossom Theatre Festival March 9 through 11 in Salem.

The three-day event features 15 performances and five workshops in six venues across the city.

The Cherry Blossom Theatre Festival has something for everyone: from fully staged performances to staged readings to a Spanish-language play to improvisational comedy to educational workshops.

The event has two tracks – All Access at $65 and General Admission at $35. The network is also offering a discounted General Admission pass at $25 for students and for individuals who hold an Oregon Trail card.

Patrons who purchase the All Access pass will be able to attend Pentacle Theatre's production of Calendar Girls and a performance of Enlightened Theatrics' The Foreigner and choose from among any of the other events on the three-day schedule.

Proceeds from ticket sales will fund the network's Young Audience Opportunity Grant, which supports middle school children's awareness of and appreciation for live theater. The grant funds transportation from middle schools in the Salem/Keizer, Silverton and Aumsville districts to high-school theater performances.

Consider making a sustaining donation

O PB's current on-air pledge drive reminded me to let you know about a new program we offer: automatic recurring donations.

I choose to give both to Pentacle Theatre and OPB through monthly donations, rather than large one-time gifts. There are benefits to me and to the organizations I give to: my donation happens automatically, and Pentacle and OPB have a reliable source of support.

Your sustaining monthly donation - no matter how large or small - will make you feel good knowing that every month you're making a difference at Pentacle Theatre.

You can make your donations direct from your checking account too, so we don't have to call you when you get a new credit card.

You can becoming a sustaining donor now . It's safe and secure and supports the great community theater you've come to know and love.

See you at the theater!
